INTRODUCTION

1885 in Manitoba history was both eventful and uneventful. Settlers, many from Ontario, continued to pour into the province, pushing settlement out from its core at the junction of the Red and Assiniboine rivers. Most of the old towns grew, some faster than others. The new newspaper on the western edge of Manitoba, the "VIRDEN ADVANCE", showed just how far west migration had moved.

A few of the old newspapers disappeared and others were born to take their places. Some of the papers reflected a definite political point of view and battles of words spewed forth in the editorial pages and in letters to the editor.

The most important story, covered in great detail in all of the papers both large and small, was the fighting at Batoche and Duck Lake in the NorthWest, sometimes called the Second Riel Rebellion. Louis Riel led a band of Metis in a fight for rights they believed were due to them. Army units, including some from Winnipeg, were sent to quell the uprising. In the battles which followed, lives were lost on both sides. Ultimately, Louis Riel was captured, tried in Regina for treason and subsequently hanged there in November 1885. Some will say that Canada is still feeling the repercussions from that hanging.

This, then, is the setting for those researching the newspapers of 1885. It is always tempting to stop to read the stories told in the papers, but that is for another book, or several other books. We have checked all of the newspapers for records of vital events, the births, marriages, deaths of Manitobans or those connected with our province. Our eyes sometimes falter under the strain of reading tiny, faded print and sometimes we transcribe names incorrectly. For this, we apologize.

This is an index and as such contains only the basic facts of any given event, and refers to the name and date of the newspaper or newspapers in which the event can be found. A note beside the entry saying, "See page--", indicates that further information about the entry will be found on the page specified. This could be, for instance, a complete obituary, or a description of a wedding. Entries in this index are from all available English and French newspapers published in Manitoba in 1885. All classified advertisements for births, marriages and deaths are included, as well as items gleaned from local news columns. Events concerning European royalty, religious figures, eastern Canadians, American politicians, etc. are not recorded, unless there is evidence of a Manitoba connection.

In Manitoba, rural locations are described by three numbers indicating the section, township and range where the land is located. Thus the reference SW 32 - 6 - 10 W means that the event took place on the southwest corner of Section 32, Township 6, Range 10 West of the principal meridian. A reference with only two numbers, eg. 6 - 10 W, refers only to the township and range.

This index was developed and printed by MGS members and a summer student. The late Joan Bailey read the Rapid City Standard not long before her death. Florence Cox and I read many of the other papers. Student Cheryl Vance finished the readings so that we could proceed to the next step and was assisted in the recording of the indexes by Liza and Susan Vance. The late Gordon Breckman's cover design is being used again to provide continuity for our series.

Pam Goundry entered the data we acquired and Lorne Harris is responsible for all the details which resulted in the production of this volume.

The Manitoba Genealogical Society Inc. would like to thank the staff of the Legislative Library of Manitoba for their co-operation. A generous grant from the Heritage Grants Advisory Council of Manitoba assisted us in producing this volume.

EXTENSION OF BOUNDARIES OF THE PROVINCE 1912.

designed to show the successive increases in area of the Province and also the Hudson's Bay Railway (from The Pas to Churchill) and the branch lines to Flin Flon and Cold Lake now in operation. No other railway lines are shewn, and the only place names on the sketch map, which is necessarily small are those that without crowding it will serve its purpose by making the location of the successive boundary lines plain at a glance.
